INTELLIGENCE KNOWLEDGE CHECK

UNKNOWN

Unknown — suspicious pattern

Unknown domain

The domain lintico.com does not match any major brand, public service, or well-known infrastructure based on training data. Its registration via GoDaddy and relatively recent age (~3 years) do not inherently indicate maliciousness, but the domain name itself shows no clear association with reputable entities. Without additional context, it appears obscure and potentially suspicious.

- △ No known association with trusted brands or infrastructure
- △ Domain name does not resemble established or reputable entities
- △ Relatively recent registration age for a trusted domain

SCAN EVIDENCE VERDICT

25 /100 MEDIUM RISK

The domain lintico.com is an unfamiliar, relatively new domain registered via GoDaddy with no known association to reputable entities. Real-time scan evidence shows SSL connection issues and failed HTTP fetches, indicating potential misconfiguration or suspicious activity. Despite no blacklist flags, the combination of an obscure domain and technical anomalies suggests a cautious stance, leaning toward potential suspicion but not confirmed maliciousness.

1. Further investigate the domain's purpose and ownership details through WHOIS and historical data.
2. Avoid interacting with or embedding content from lintico.com until its legitimacy is verified.
3. Monitor network traffic for any unusual activity related to this domain.
4. Implement additional security controls if future interactions are necessary.
